

iPad Shortcourse Blaze EZ

The Blaze EZ is a digital audio player and portable OCR (Optical Character Recognition) device manufactured by HIMS International Corporation. It is a small, lightweight portable device which can play digital books, music files, document files, DAISY content, FM radio, and can scan and recognize printed text and text image files with the built-in 5 megapixel camera and OCR software. With the built-in Wi-fi users can also utilize Online DAISY, Web Radio and subscribe to and download podcasts.

Though the Blaze EZ is a powerful device with advanced features, it remains easy to use, even for the non-technical person, with many functions available with the press of a single button.
